Kwong Wah Hospital

Visitors to Hong Kong are apt to regard it as a pleasure colony, run for the benefit of "the big business man" or for tourists. Few realise how much is done to alleviate the lot of the poor and needy here.

There is a great deal of poverty and sickness in the Far East, but here, at any rate, the authorities are fully cognizant of it, and through the courtesy of one of the Medical Officers, our representative was yesterday allowed to visit one of the most important of the local hospitals—the Kwong Wah Hospital at Yaumatei.

"DAUGHTER HOSPITAL"

Known to the poor of the Colony as "The Daughter Hospital," it is actually the Kowloon offshoot of the well-known Tung Wah Hospital at Sookunpoo, (or Mother Hospital) and is under the direction of the Board of that establishment.

It is for the poorest of the poor, and it is their boast that none has ever been refused admission. Most patients are treated absolutely free, but patients of a better class can go into the first-floor wards where they get full attention for the modest sum of fifty cents per day. Other patients can, on occasion, be given a private ward, and there are actually just seven of these, for which the sum of two dollars per day can be charged. (Continued on page 7).

JAPANESE RESENT "DILATORY TACTICS"

SHANGHAI, AUGUST 11: THE ARRIVAL OF JAPANESE WARSHIPS HERE HAVE AROUSED FEARS OF A POSSIBLE REPETITION OF THE 1932 OUTBREAK OF HOSTILITIES. THE JAPANESE ARE MOST RESENTFUL AT THE "DILATORY TACTICS" OF THE CHINESE IN DEALING WITH THE HUNGJAO AERODROME INCIDENT. THE GUNS AT WOOSUNG FORTS WERE SILENT TO-DAY AS FOUR LIGHT CRUISERS AND FIVE DESTROYERS WITH DECKS CLEARED AND SANDBAGGED AND MACHINE-GUNS MOUNTED STEAMED BY CLOSE TO THE SHORE. THEIR PASSAGE, HOWEVER, WAS VERY TENSE FOR ONE SHOT WOULD HAVE STARTED A BATTLE. THE WARSHIPS LEFT KRE NAVAL BASE ON AUGUST 10 AT NOON AND WERE ORDERED TO SHANGHAI DIRECT IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE INCIDENT ON AUGUST 9. BLUEJACKETS WERE LANDED AT SHANGHAI LATER.—REUTER.

CURT MEMORANDUM

TIENTSIN, AUGUST 11: THE JAPANESE CONSULAR AUTHORITIES HAVE DESPATCHED AN UNSIGNED MEMORANDUM IN THE MOST CURT TONE TO THE CONSULAR BODY NOTIFYING THEM OF THEIR INTENTION TO TAKE OVER THE POST OFFICES AND WIRELESS IN THE BRITISH CONCESSION AND THE CHINESE TELEGRAPHS IN THE FRENCH CONCESSION.—REUTER.

DEPENDS ON CHINESE ATTITUDE

Tokyo, August 11: "It all depends on the Chinese attitude. If China intends to aggravate the situation Japan will respond," was the comment of the spokesman of the Foreign Office regarding the Shanghai incident and asserted the Japanese Government had been taking a most cautious and most peaceful attitude towards Shanghai since the outbreak of the North China incident in order to prevent extension of hostilities to Central and South China. The "Yomiuri Shimbun" urges the Japanese Naval authorities to take vigorous action after full investigation of the incident with a view to preventing a recurrence.

The "Asahi Shimbun" counsels the Japanese Naval authorities to demand of China full observance of the Shanghai Truce Agreement of 1932 as a minimum term of settlement.—Reuter.

Admiral Mitsumasa Yonai, head of Japan's 14th gun-building navy, summoned the supreme naval council, hurried on to a Cabinet meeting to urge sending of troops to China.

CENTRAL COURT CASES

An Honest Junk Master

Described as being too honest by telling a Revenue Officer that the tobacco was his, a junk-master was brought before Mr. K. Keen yesterday. The accused was Chan Sap-ong owner of junk No. 837, who was charged with possession of dutiable tobacco. Mr. C. Russ who represented the defendant, said that the defendant was master of the junk who had about nine folks to help him. The tobacco was brought aboard by one of the nine and was used for their own consumption. When the junk was in British waters they threw the tobacco overboard. That he said was rather incriminating but an explanation was that they grew frightened and discarded it. He then asked his Worship to deal leniently with the case as the defendant had instructed him to plead guilty on his behalf.

His Worship imposed a fine of $75.

HE WANTED A SOUVENIR
After notice was given by the landlord a man tried to get a souvenir from the flat in which he used to live. The defendants, Tse Wing and Ko Lai were brought before Mr. Schofield yesterday charged with larceny of 18 panes of glass from No. 40 Bowring Road. The first admitted the larceny charge but the second stated that the first one employed him to take the glass out.

Inspector Baker said that first defendant was a tenant of the flat and was given notice by the landlord, the Wing On Company. Before leaving the defendant decided to take something with him so he took the glass. They were caught by a district watchman when they attempted to sell the glass. Inspector Baker stated that the damage done amounted to about $14.

His Worship remanded the case for two days so that the defendants could raise the sum to pay as a bully.

A BULLY BOUND OVER
Being the bully of the district and being out of his stepmother's control, a youth of 17 years of age, assaulted a lad who was much younger and weaker than himself. The defendant, Wong Fat was brought before Mr. W. Schofield yesterday charged with assaulting Lee Kwok-yau in Sai Wan-ho on August 10.

Inspector Wright said that the defendant was a bully in the Aberdeen district and was known as a very bad character. On Aug. 10, at about 2 p.m. Lee was fishing on the praya and the defendant came to him and demanded the line. Lee would not let him have it and thereupon the defendant struck Lee in the stomach, injuring him to such an extent that he had to be medically treated.

After defendant had admitted striking the lad Mr. Schofield gave the defendant a warning that he might have killed the lad had he a swollen spleen.

The defendant was bound over on the surety of his step-mother to come up for judgement if called upon to do so.

SENT TO SESSIONS

The manslaughter case in which Yu Ying, who was alleged to have killed a Chinese male with a knife as a result of an argument, was continued before Mr. K. Keen yesterday.

Yu Ying went into the witness box and testified that the deceased struck him. The reason for the deceased making a fight with him was, to his knowledge, that the deceased was jealous because Fung had lent him the money when he (deceased) had also asked for a loan and was refused.

At the conclusion of the accused's evidence he was committed to stand his trial at the next Criminal Sessions.

NO LICENCE FOR RESTAURANT

Appearing before Mr. Schofield yesterday, Ho Chek-kai was summoned for not having a licence for a restaurant in Main Street, Aberdeen.

Mr. D. McCallum, for the defence, stated that his client had a licence and in May the Urban Council required certain modifications which the eating house owners had to meet. These modifications incurred heavy expenses. Mr. McCallum asked for an adjournment in order to interview Government with a view to having the summons withdrawn. His Worship granted the application.

FALSE PRETENCES ALLEGED

Going to an Indian money-lender, Basant Singh, and telling him that his friend was owner of the Cheung Ming firm a Chinese man obtained a loan of $100. The accused was tried in the Civil Court some time ago and the prosecution arrested the accused on grounds that he had obtained the money by false pretences.

Mr. M. A. da Silva with permission of the police appeared for the prosecution while Mr. C. A. S. Russ represented the defendant, at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

Mr. Silva brought in two fresh charges, namely, obtaining the sum of $40 on April 1 and obtaining the sum of $110 on June 1, by false pretences.

Basant Singh testified that in April the defendant went to obtain a loan of $100, for the purchase of furniture for a new school. Defendant also told witness that he was working in a solicitor's firm receiving a salary of $50 per month. On investigation witness found that the defendant only received $25. It was after this that witness refused to advance the money to the defendant the latter got his friend to pose as the owner of the Cheung Ming firm.

The defendant made out a promissory note which was not enforced and defendant made two further loans using the friend as security. When witness discovered that the man who was supposed to be the owner of the Cheung Ming firm was in fact not the owner he went to the defendant to try and get the return of his money. Witness then brought a claim against the defendant. At this stage the hearing was adjourned till August 27.

CHEUNG CHAU ROBBERY

Revenue Officers Accused

That apparently another revolver was used was alleged by a witness in the case against the two Chinese Revenue Officers who, with three others were charged with armed robbery aboard a junk. The case was continued before Mr. G. S. Kennedy-Skipston, at the District Office South yesterday afternoon.

The prosecution alleged that the five accused, armed with a service revolver and a pair of handcuffs boarded the fishing junk on June 26, 1937 whilst it was lying in Cheung Chau Harbour and robbed Mak Fook Wah, master, of $1,000.

The accused are Yuen Fuk and Ho Fuk-sin the Revenue Officers, Leung Tsat, Leung Hui and Chan Yau-hing. At the outset of yesterday's hearing Mr. G. H. Gady, Government Surveyor, produced plans of the village of Cheung Chau.

Mak Chik Yan, son of the complainant, who was cross-examined said that the fifth accused had a revolver when he was on board on his father's junk. He could see the handle of what appeared to be a revolver under fifth accused's coat.

After further formal evidence was heard the hearing was adjourned until 2.30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Crown case, which is being conducted by Mr. John Whyatt, was yesterday in the hands of Mr. E. H. Williams, who explained that Mr. Whyatt was engaged elsewhere. The accused were represented by Mr. H. A. de Barros Botelho.

IN SEASON THIS WEEK

Persimmons have arrived... but if you are wise you will not eat any until this cholera scare is completely over!

Another unusual fruit is also in season, which rejoices in various names. Some call these four-corned green and glossy objects Carambola's and in other places they are known as Kar-marungas. Anyway they are rather too acid for European taste unless stewed with sugar cut off the corners and slice them. Mix with an equal quantity of sliced banana, and serve in a glass with custard they are then truly delicious. But the real merit of Carambola's is that they are really marvellous for cleaning brass (Benares trays, or vases, etc etc.) Just put them in half, rub vigorously on the metal, give a quick wash with warm soapy water, and rub with a soft cloth and a truly glittering effect will be obtained.

Chinese pears are in, too, (and look for all the world like lovely "Russetts"). These are very pleasant stewed with a few drops of lime, and served with blanc-mange or custard.

NEWS AND INTRUSION

There was another consideration in relation to broadcasting which ought to be remembered. He did not think the Press, or any section of it, could ever impose its political views upon its readers. He did not believe it could ever dictate to its readers, but it might, if it wished, do a great deal to suppress and misrepresent news. If such a case should arise, he had no doubt that broadcasting would apply a very effective corrective.

Speaking of occasional incidents of intrusion by a certain section of the Press, Major Astor said they all recognized that the public resented instances of sensationalism and intrusion into private lives. He would like to say, with confidence, that the vast majority of Pressmen not only regretted but deplored these incidents as much as anybody else. The question was, how were they to impose standards of good taste in such matters? He did not think it could be done by legislation. He believed it could only be done by the reading public, and no doubt, with the ever-increasing spread of higher standards of education, the public would in due course stop these cases of intrusion and sensationalism.

Major Astor said the Empire Press, on technical matters, spoke with surprising unanimity. Yet the words and actions of every member were his own. He felt very strongly that their freedom was their strength.

BLOOD TESTS FOR DIPLOMATS

New Dogma In Japan

The supreme importance of blood has been elevated into a dogma in modern Germany.

It is being emphasized, on somewhat different basis, by Dr. Tsunenasa Aragaki, medical expert attached to the Japanese Foreign Office. If Dr. Aragaki has his way, only applicants who can show an "O" type of blood will be admitted into the foreign service in the future.

Dr. Aragaki is convinced that this type of blood, as revealed by tests, indicates a combination of desirable qualities: calmness, strength of will, gentleness, and self-confidence.

He remarked that during a recent tour abroad, undertaken for the purpose of examining the health of diplomatic officials, he found many of them suffering from ill-health and handicapped by the high cost of medical treatment in foreign countries.

Dr. Aragaki advocates the establishment of a Medical Affairs Bureau in the Foreign Office, and the simultaneous introduction of a system of blood tests for new candidates.

The medical bureau of the War Office has also been studying the advisability of considering blood tests in determining the suitability of entrance applicants.

Japan has always been a country where novelties are quickly caught up. It may be that this idea of the blood test as a revelation of temperament and character will spread much more widely.

Martyn was able to continue the tour, arousing interest and organizing continuing committees in Canton, Nanking, Peiping and Shanghai.

BROADCASTING AND THE PRESS

Major Astor On Demand For News

Major Astor, M.P., chairman of the Empire Press Union, addressed the Royal Empire Society's summer school at Rhodes House, Oxford, and spoke of the way in which the union, which owed its inception to Sir Harry Brittain and was founded in 1909, had developed into an organization representative in every sense of the entire Empire Press.

The latest development, he said, was the holding of annual conferences instead of at five yearly intervals, and at the conference in London this year one of their sessions was given up to considering the relations between the Press and the B.B.C., and the effects of broadcasting on newspapers. In the early days of broadcasting, there was quite a tense feeling between newspapers and the broadcasting authorities, and it was not unnatural that journalists and pressmen should feel alarmed at this new invention. They did not know its possibilities or its limitations, and this anxiety had been revived more recently in the overseas Press when the B.B.C. started their Empire news broadcasts.

Some of them had always felt that broadcasting would have the effect of increasing the taste and demand for news, and fortunately they had been confirmed in their view by the increase in circulation of newspapers in England. Sir John Reith had always shown that he had no wish to injure the legitimate rights of the Press, and he wished to pay a tribute to him because he had always met them in a sympathetic and helpful way. Experience had shown that there was room and need both for newspapers and broadcasting, and he was glad to say that their relations were excellent.

CHINA CALLS MARGARET SANGER TO CURB OVERPOPULATION

Margaret Sanger, of New York, birth control leader, sailed on July 24, in response to a request to help curb overpopulation in China. With three co-workers she embarked at Los Angeles on the s.s. Lurline of the Mattson Line, for a three months' trip to the Orient. They will promote the birth control movement in China, and aid physicians and medical societies to organize contraceptive clinics and carry on educational work. This is Mrs. Sanger's third trip to the Far East.

Accompanying her is Mrs. Alexander C. Dick, of New York, who was Secretary of the National Committee on Federal Legislation for Birth Control (recently dissolved after medical birth control was legalized by court decision); Mrs. Joan Parker of Tucson, Arizona, niece of former Governor Robert P. Bass of New Hampshire and granddaughter of Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird of Massachusetts; and Miss Florence Rose, Mrs. Sanger's secretary. Mrs. Dick is accompanied by her 14-year old son, Charles Brush.

En route the party will stop in Honolulu and sail in the s.s. President Pierce for Kobe, Japan, spending a week in Japan. They will arrive in Peiping on August 31. In China they will also visit Nanking, Shanghai, Hong Kong and Canton, and inspect clinics in Korea. They will sail from Shanghai September 25 on the s.s. President Wilson, from Hong Kong October 2 on the s.s. President Jefferson, and October 13 from Manila on the s.s. President Hoover, arriving in San Francisco November 3.

CHINA EAGER FOR CONTROL

"China is eager for birth control," said Mrs. Sanger before sailing. "It is a particularly important factor in her acute overpopulation problem. More than 40 years ago, Dr. Sun Yat-Sen, the father of the Chinese Revolution pointed out the serious threat of overpopulation. With a present population estimated at 400 million and a per capita acreage of three-quarters of an acre, famine and destitution are the common lot. Public officials and the medical profession have been wise enough to see that the task of checking population and bringing birth control to China's submerged millions can only be adequately handled by the government. Here lies China's hope for the future. All of the reasons which exist for population control in other countries are intensified a thousand fold in crowded China.

"I first visited China in 1922 and instituted birth control clinics and educational work in Peiping and Shanghai. These centres have since grown into the best organized clinics in China. Among the active organizations in China are the Peiping National Health Committee, the Shanghai Birth Control Information Bureau, and the Hong Kong Eugenics Society. I am making the present trip upon the invitation of Dr. Arthur Woo, of Hong Kong, and Dr. Amos Wong, of Shanghai, leaders in Chinese medical societies, and other friends.

MEDICAL SUPPORT

"In contrast to the West the medical profession has been quick to give support and in 1935 the Chinese Medical Association went on record as officially recognizing contraception as a part of the activities of public health, especially in the field of maternity and child welfare."

"Progress in birth control was made in China during the world-tour of 1935-36, when Mrs. Edith How-Martyn and I addressed laymen and women and medical groups. After a busy stay in Hong Kong, I was forced to leave because of illness, but Mrs. How-

Strengthen your body against Feverish Diseases

The chance of catching malaria and other feverish diseases is far greater, if the power of resistance is lowered. Lack of minerals in the body usually causes this lowering. Tiredness, heart troubles, irritability and dizziness are signs that your power of resistance is below par.

Prevent serious trouble by taking Kalzana tablets regularly. Kalzana replenishes the mineral content of the body and blood cells in a perfectly natural way, strengthens the whole system, and so prevents serious infectious diseases, such as malaria, skin rashes, etc.

A grateful Kalzana user, Mr. E. B., writes:

"I have suffered from very bad nervous headaches for 10 years and after having taken Kalzana I feel as fit as a fiddle."

The quickest-acting STOMACH REMEDY used by Doctors

Amazing evidence of the remarkable speed with which indigestion and stomach pains can be stopped has been revealed by medical experiments and X-ray photographs of actual cases. These prove the ingredients of 'Bisurated' Magnesia to be the 'quickest-acting and most effective known in medical science. Within 5 minutes a teaspoonful of Bisurated Magnesia in a little water produces complete relief. How many other remedies have failed entirely?

Its Action Explained—

Simply take a teaspoonful of the powder in a little water. The moment this soothing draught reaches the irritated stomach it begins to soothe the nerve, stimulating the digestive food. The contents of the stomach become at once more active and move on to the sensitive stomach lining. The pain quickly lessens and promptly disappears. By following up the treatment, the acid and your harassed stomach will soon lose its tendency to grow angry, until you can eat whatever you like and enjoy every meal, without fear of wind and pain.

A NOTED ENGLISH DOCTOR SAYS:

"I find that 'Bisurated' Magnesia taken after my meals is the only thing that keeps me free from pain and discomfort, and I take it regularly. I often prescribe it for my patients, and have had very good results."

H.C. — M.A., M.R.C.S., L.R.C.P.

ANOTHER DOCTOR SAYS:

"'Bisurated' Magnesia gives excellent results and is the ideal remedy for stomach pains and acidity. It is particularly recommended for dyspepsia, Gastritis, Stomach Pains, Flatulence, and even Stomach Ulcers."

H.L. — Faculty of Medicine, Paris.

LITERARY TOUCH

A justly proud father recently received a letter from his thirteen-year-old daughter, at school in England. It was an excellent account of seeing the Coronation procession and included the following passage:

"In the evening we listened to the King's broadcast. It was the King himself who spoke, not George VI or Queen Elizabeth's husband or Princess Elizabeth's father, or the Duke of Kent's brother, but the King of England. God bless him!"

The young lady had better be careful. If she writes like this at the age of thirteen, she is liable to be a best seller at twenty.

TROUBLE IN MOROCCO

"Trouble in Morocco" is a fresh, breezy film packed with the fastest sort of action, with Jack Holt at his best in a ripping story of the French Foreign Legion. It has its run at the Majestic Theatre to-day.

Columbia has provided Jack Holt with an excellent supporting cast. Mae Clarke, in the leading feminine role, delivers a delightful portrayal. C. Henry Gordon, Harold Huber, Victor Varconi, Paul Hurst, Bradley Page, and Oscar Apfel all rise splendidly to the occasion also.

The tale is an exciting one. Paul Cluett, foreign news correspondent for an American syndicate, meets a rival of long standing, Linda Lawrence, in Paris, and tricks her into revealing that she is en route to Morocco to cover exclusively a big gun-smuggling story. Cluett takes Linda's passport so that she cannot follow him too closely, and leaves for Africa.

DON'T TELL THE WIFE

"That's sold in them thar hills," but the gang of crooked stock salesmen in the hilarious screen comedy, "Don't Tell The Wife," didn't believe it, so Guy Kibbee went "a-prospectin'" and found himself a bonanza, and the crooks who had tried to fool him got left out in the cold.

Besides the rollicking Mr. Kibbee, this mad farce features Una Merkel and Lynne Overman, supported by ace comedians, such as Thurston Hall, Guinn Williams, Frank M. Thomas, Harry Jans and Hattie McDaniels.

When three honour students from "Sing-Sing," the college on the river, receive their diplomas, they lose no time in finding their former cronies. Lynne Overman, whose wife has forced him into honest retirement, Overman can't resist the lure of the bucket shop and money pouring in for gold mine stocks. But trouble for them and fun for the audience begins when they hire an honest man, Guy Kibbee, to "front" for them.

MOTOR MADNESS

It has been a long time since the screen has produced a really swell movie about motorboat racing, that dangerous, lightning-fast sport which is reserved for persons with steel nerves and eagle-sharp eyes. "Motor Madness," the Columbia production which has its run at the Alhambra Theatre to-day, is just that sort of picture. If you want a thrill-filled evening, don't miss it.

In the leading roles are two players of unusual talent—Rosalind Keith and a handsome fellow named Allen Brook, who is something of a stranger to the screen. The two turn in really excellent performances, Miss Keith fulfilling the promise she showed in "Theodora Goes Wild" and Mr. Brook giving every indication that his name will soon be up in lights with the best of them.

WHITE TIE

Taken from the New Yorker: Arriving in New York on a business trip, a man was invited to dine at the house of one of his clients. He forgot to ask how formal the meal was to be, so when he went back to his hotel he called the client's office and finally got through to the secretary.

"I'm going to dinner at Mr. J.'s house," he said, "and I want to know whether to wear a white tie or a black tie."

"That all depends," said that helpful young woman, "on whether you are going to wear tails or a dinner jacket."

THE GUV'NOR

One of the most pressing matters during the making of "George Arliss's new picture 'The Guv'nor' was choosing of a site for the haunts of the two tramps whose adventures are the keynote to the story, showing to-day at the King's Theatre.

An Assistant Director combed certain meadows and pastures in search of the sort of sylvan backwater which tramps usually select. In such place it was proposed to film "Tramp Arliss" and Tramp Gerrard resting and peaching and then resting again.

WOMAN'S YEAR IN JUNGLE

JUST TO PAINT

German Girl's Trip To Africa

A German woman recently left London to live for a year in a Central African jungle. She will cut her way through the remotest parts of the vast Ituri forest land of the pigmies, in Eastern Belgian Congo, where vegetation is so thick that the sun rarely penetrates it. She is going all that way just to paint.

Blonde, vital Fraulein Gertrud Sauermann, aged forty, but looking more like thirty, wants to paint lions, leopards, and elephants in their haunts.

She wants pictures of gorillas and the giraffe-like okapi which inhabits only the thickest jungle and is known as the shyest animal. On canvas, too, she hopes to paint a pictorial record of life in a pigmy village.

Fraulein Sauermann's white companion will be Herr Herman Freyberg, hunter and explorer. He first went to Africa when he was eighteen and has pierced further into the jungle than most men, chiefly because of his remarkable knowledge of tropical medicine.

This knowledge, acquired during twenty years in Africa, has so far given him immunity from the tsetse fly, most feared peril in the interior.

Fraulein Sauermann, who has been living for some time at West Cromwell-road, Earl's Court, London, is one of Germany's foremost women horse-riders.

She has won races against men, has been the horse-jumping champion of her country.

With her tropical kit and guns she has packed fifty canvases, an easel, a year's supply of oil colours and pencils; and a stack of sketch books.

But Fraulein Sauermann is also quite feminine. She has packed eighteen hats!

BRITISH FILMS

"In Need Of Experienced Producers"

The British motion picture industry is in need of experienced producers rather than Hollywood stars and writers, according to Mr. Raymond Massey, the actor, who is now in Hollywood to make a picture.

"Millions of dollars have been spent on pictures which in Hollywood would rate no better than 'quickies,'" said Mr. Massey in an interview.

"It wasn't through extravagance, but through a plain lack of knowledge. Money would be spent on the wrong things, and more added to it in an effort to straighten out scenes hopelessly mixed," he added. "Hollywood has mastered the art of setting speedy scenes amid slow action so that each fast portion stands out like a jewel. The change of pace mounts the best parts of each production as a jeweller would mount jewels in a ring."

"It takes producers to know these things, and when England gets them the slump will end."

WORLD'S LONGEST KISS

Lasted One Hour 18 Minutes

Two Hollywood players working on a film claim to have "endured" the world's longest kiss. It lasted one hour and 18 minutes.

They are Gilbert Roland and Dorothy Lamour. No "stand-ins" (temporary deputies) were available when they were preparing for the scene to be filmed. So, for more than an hour and a quarter, with short intermissions, they had to stand with lips pressed together while cameramen and electricians arranged lighting effects.

The kiss will occupy only a few seconds in the film.

"LAZIEST GIRL"

Dubbed "the laziest girl in the class," 17-year-old Gene Seymour, of Norwalk (Connecticut) High School, protested as follows: "I go to school from 8 a.m. to 2 p.m. Then I work in a store till 5 p.m. Then I work for a doctor till 7.30. Then I do my homework. Is that lazy?"

MARRIAGE IN PRISON

Bucharest, Aug. 10.

A most unconventional marriage took place at the Penitentiary here, when the political prisoner Anton Amaleuscu, who serves a life sentence, was married to his former sweetheart, in order to legalise their now 6-year-old child. Both Amaleuscu and his "best man" also a political prisoner, had to appear before the priest in chains. The authorities not only permitted Amaleuscu to be married, but also allowed the festivities to be held in prison. Not only relatives of the bride but also prisoners who had a record of good conduct, were allowed to take part in the festival. After the banquet was over the newly-wed bride had to leave the prison.—Transocean News Service.

MAINTAINING GOOD HEALTH STANDARDS

London, Aug. 10.

The local financial returns for the year 1934/1935 have just been published by the Ministry of Health. The figures clearly show it is largely by the help of Government grants that the local authorities, especially in the poorer areas, are able to maintain the good standards in health and other social services. Out of every £100 of the expenditure falling on the poorer areas in an average county borough, just over £39 is met not out of rates, but out of grants from the National Exchequer.

In one case this figure rises to £56. In administrative counties, especially "Baird" areas where agricultural land pays no rates, the proportion from the Exchequer grants is still higher. The average is £47 out of the £82 counties it is over £50, and in the Isle of Ely, Huntingdon, Montgomery and Rutland, it is over

EXPEDITION RETURNS

London, Aug. 10.

The Antarctic expedition sent out by the Royal Geographical Society on the polar research ship "Penola" three years ago returned home to Portsmouth to-day. The activities of the expedition had been chiefly devoted to the exploration of Graham's Land, and as a result of the work it is found that Graham's Land does not consist of a group of islands as has hitherto been supposed, but is a peninsula of the Antarctic continent. It was also established that the Andes and their continuation in the Antarctic.

The proportion is lowest in the prosperous counties of the south-east, London being the lowest of all.—British Wireless.

JAPAN MISSION ENDS VISIT

Friendship With Britain

"To those who have very pleasant memories of previous collaboration between Great Britain and Japan the present state of the relations between our two countries is to be deplored," declared the Japanese Ambassador, Mr. S. Yoshida, according to the "Daily Telegraph."

He was speaking at Grosvenor House at the "Sayonara" or farewell dinner to the Japanese Economic Mission, which has just concluded its visit to this country.

The purpose of the Mission, said the Ambassador, was to complete that work of re-establishing a permanent basis of friendship between the two countries which was so successfully begun by the Barnby Mission to Japan three years ago.

"Several attempts have been made in this country and in our country to place our relations on a more satisfactory basis," continued Mr. Yoshida. "I have every confidence that the Japanese Economic Mission will, by its visit, have fully reciprocated the good-will of the Barnby Mission and ensured the firm friendship of the British nation."

VIEWS EXCHANGED

This was amply shown by the warm reception extended to the Mission in various quarters in this country. Everywhere the members of the Mission met with the same kindness and found themselves provided with generous opportunities of studying British industry and frankly exchanging views.

Lord Barnby said that it was one of the joint missions of the two countries to raise the standard of living in the world, and a great responsibility rested on them in East Asia, where they held such a great position.

Mr. C. Kadono, leader of the Mission, who presided, said that Japan's national economy was based by necessity on a policy of liberalism in international trade and in matters governing international relations.

Mr. Kadono spoke of the "rare treat" of watching a cricket match at Lord's and polo at Ranelagh, and added that the members of the Mission had played golf all the way from Woodcote Park to Gleneagles, including a pilgrimage to St. Andrews, where the members were impressed equally by the excellence of the greens and the "roughness of the roughs of heather." (Laughter.)

MORE EXPULSIONS PLANNED BY NAZIS

Berlin, Aug. 10.
An official statement with respect to the question of expulsion of the London "Times" chief correspondent from Germany, issued to-day, discloses that the British Government has been formally requested to use its influence with the newspaper concerned to recall Mr. Norman Ebbutt within a fortnight, otherwise his permit to remain in Germany will be cancelled.

The measure is necessary, it is stated, because Mr. Ebbutt for years has performed his work only in a spirit hostile to Germany, thus abusing the hospitality granted him.

Further measures against British journalists in Berlin are apparently foreshadowed by an article in "Boersen Zeitung," usually close to official opinion. This newspaper states that again and again Germany has postponed measures of the sort now contemplated solely in the interests of relations between Germany and Britain and in the quest for peace between the two countries. In view of the British action in expelling three German correspondents, Germany naturally has no reason to postpone measures which long ago were proved urgently necessary.

The newspaper adds that it may be taken for granted that the measures taken against Mr. Ebbutt will be preferred against further correspondents who do not content themselves with their journalistic work but who have to a great extent interfered in German home politics.

Meanwhile the Foreign Press Association has called an extraordinary general meeting to consider the situation.

NO STEPS YET

London, Aug. 10.
It is learned that no steps are being taken at present by the British Government with regard to the expulsion of the "Times" cor-

ANGLO-ITALIAN ACCORD

Rome, Aug. 10.
A forecast of the scope of the new Anglo-Italian accord, given by the usually well-informed newspaper, "Stampa," says Geneva's recognition of the Italian Empire in Abyssinia is expected in the first fortnight of September, and negotiations for the new accord will take place at the end of the summer.

The accord, says this journal, will amplify the "gentlemen's agreement," but will be more definite.

"The two Governments," says "Stampa," "will present a series of requests which will require careful examination. The points of contact between the two nations will no longer be limited to the Mediterranean, but will cover the Red Sea and the Indian Ocean."

NON-INTERVENTION DUES NOT PAID

London, Aug. 10.
It was revealed at the last meeting of the Chairman's Sub-Committee of the Non-Intervention Committee, that many governments, parties to the Non-Intervention Agreement, including all except the United Kingdom, among the five principal powers which undertook between them to find 80 per cent of the cost of the control scheme, scheme, had fallen into arrears in payment to the International Non-Intervention Board.

An urgent request was made to the governments in arrears to hasten payment of the past and current contributions. Estonia, Denmark, Netherlands Turkey and the Irish Free State have now paid their dues to date, but the remittances of 15 of the smaller states and of four great powers have not yet been received.

REPORT DENIED

London, Aug. 10.
In view of certain reports regarding interviews alleged to have been given to the press by the international observing officer who was injured during the attack from the air on August 8, made against the Italian ship, "Mongola," the International Non-Intervention Board issued a considered statement to-night that it considered it necessary to state that no communication of any kind had been made to the press by the observing officer or by any other officer on board.

GENERAL ACCUSES MOSCOW

Seville, Aug. 10.
General Queipo de Llano, in a radio speech at Seville yesterday stated emphatically that the bomb attacks on the British, French and Italian steamers could only be the work of Bolshevists, who acted under orders from Moscow, which latter power wanted to unleash another European conflict. The General stated that it was his conviction that the attacks had been organised and carried out by Soviet Russians from their base on the Balearic Island of Minorca.

MILITIAMEN TERRORISE NATIONALIST SHIP

Paris, Aug. 10.
Seven red militiamen, who had succeeded in escaping from the Nationalist port of Pasajes, arrived at Bayonne and were interned in the refugee camp. They smuggled on board a Nationalist ship, and on the high seas forced the captain, at the point of revolvers, to put in at Bayonne, where they immediately went to the Red Spanish Consulate, who then put them in the refugee camp.

respondent, Mr. Norman Ebbutt, from Berlin.

No extra-journalistic activities, are alleged against him as far as is known here, and the reason for his expulsion is simply that he is not persons grata, whereas it is understood the reason for expelling German correspondents from London is the fact that they have been damaging Anglo-German relations through extra-journalistic activities.

MR. HORE BELISHA EXPLAINS NEW EXPERIMENTAL SCHEME

London, Aug. 10.
The Secretary for War, Mr. Hore Belisha, in a broadcast talk this evening, said that the government had decided first to allow serving soldiers who having enlisted, as is at present the general practice, for 7 years with colours and 5 on the reserve, who are about to complete their colour service to extend it, and secondly to allow reservists of certain classes to rejoin colours. Both serving soldiers and reservists who rejoin will on the completion of 12 years service, be eligible to be re-engaged to complete 21 years service so as to qualify for pension.

Explaining the experiment which is for a limited period so that the response may show how far the alteration of terms of Army service on these lines meets the desire of those who take to a soldier's profession, Mr. Hore Belisha said that he was told that one of the chief anxieties of a serving soldier had been his inability to continue in the profession which he had mastered and liked. Under the new offer his mind would be set at rest. He would know that the State would use his services normally till he had completed 21 years total service, generally at about 40 years of age.

Under the present system a soldier is bound to leave colours after a limited period and although a good soldier he often cannot find another job. The proposal was to give him a job in his own profession with a pension attached to it, and it would be a consolation to him to know that at the time of his discharge he would, while still in the prime of his life, have something coming in.

In fact the offer met the frequent assertion that a soldier ought to get more for his service, for under the new scheme, pension was in effect added to his pay. That would give greater confidence, not only to the soldier himself but also to his family.

FLAG COMMAND CHANGES

Two changes in flag commands were due to take effect on July 27, but because of the absence of H.M.S. Royal Oak in Spanish waters one of them has been postponed. This is the relief of Rear-Admiral C. G. Ramsey, C.B., as Rear-Admiral, Second Battle Squadron, by Rear-Admiral L. D. I. MacKinnon, C.B., C.V.O., late Chief of Staff at Portsmouth. It is understood that the postponement may be only for a few days until the return of the flagship to England.

The other change is in the post of Rear-Admiral, Aircraft Carriers, which Rear-Admiral G. O. C. Royle, C.B., C.M.G., late Naval Secretary to the First Lord, will take up in succession to Vice-Admiral Noel F. Laurence, C.B., D.S.O., Paymaster Commander P. H. Morrissey, M.B.E., who was Secretary to Rear-Admiral Royle at the Admiralty, will accompany him to H.M.S. Courageous.

RETURN OF THE AJAX

The cruiser Ajax, Captain C. S. Thomson, returns to Portsmouth on July 27, on the conclusion of her first commission, which began on April 15, 1935, on her completion by Vickers-Armstrongs, Limited, Barrow. Most of it has been spent on the South American Station, but during the Abyssinian emergency the Ajax was among the ships concentrated in the Eastern Mediterranean. She will undergo a long refit at Portsmouth before returning to her station.

AIR DIVISION STAFF

Commander R. M. Ellis, who joined the staff of the Naval Air Division on July 27, has been connected with the Fleet Air Arm since 1924, when he specialized as an air observer, but his last appointment was a general service one in command of H.M.S. Delight in the 8th Destroyer Flotilla, China Station. He has won the Henry Leigh Clarke Prize for the best essay on a subject dealing with the work of the Fleet Air Arm. Previously he had gained the Ronald Megaw Prize for obtaining highest place in his examinations for lieutenant, and the Goodenough Medal for the best examination in gunnery.

VOLUNTARY RETIREMENT

Lieutenant-Commander M. W. Ewart-Westworth has been placed on the retired list at his own request. He has been 23 years in the Navy, and went to sea from Dartmouth in August, 1917, as midshipman of the Colossus in the Grand Fleet. In 1925, after specializing in signals, he was appointed Flag Lieutenant to Admiral Sir Roger Keyes in the Mediterranean. On completing three years there he went in for destroyer service, and has commanded the Wrestler, Winchester, Beagle, and Comet in home waters, and the Mediterranean.

POINTS FROM FLEET ORDERS

The Rev. E. Foley, of Overdale, Ronge Hills Avenue, Guernsey, has been appointed officiating minister to Baptist and Congregational personnel of the Navy at Guernsey, vice the Rev. A. W. Skeens, to date August 1, 1937.

The following ratings have been selected to undergo the qualifying course for warrant telegraphist at the Signal School, Portsmouth, beginning on August 30:—C. L. Chapman, A. E. Larkman, J. Lawn, H. F. Short, and H. A. Judkins.

A SEA LAWYER'S MANUAL

An executive officer of the Navy may be called on to sit as a member of a Court-martial, and any accountant officer to act as Officiating Deputy Judge Advocate therein. A Court-martial, like any court which is to administer justice fairly and impartially, must comply closely at every step with the law of the land. For this purpose both the members and the Officiating Deputy Judge Advocate of a Court-martial must acquire a knowledge of legal formalities of which normally they have little need. To assist them in the preliminary steps of that acquisition, Paymaster Commander A. D. Duckworth has published "An Introduction to Court-Martial Procedure" (Horns and Miller, Devonport), which deals with the subject in outline and in simple language. It is a useful introduction to the study, and it should make it easier for the budding sea-lawyer. ("All accountant officers are trained in naval law and legal work generally," Paymaster Commander Duckworth remarks) to absorb the intricacies of the official textbooks which he must tackle later.

ROYAL AIR FORCE

OVERDUE AIRCRAFT

The procedure to be followed when aircraft are reported overdue or in distress when flying over the sea in the vicinity of the British Isles is the subject of a new Air Ministry Order.

When aircraft flying over the sea are reported overdue the unit concerned is to originate three messages, one for broadcast from the G.P.O. coastal wireless station in the vicinity, one for transmission to any of H.M. ships in the vicinity from the appropriate naval authority, and one to the appropriate district officer, H.M. Coastguard. If the location of the overdue aircraft is believed to be in the vicinity of the Croydon-Continental air routes a message will also be passed to Croydon aerodrome for broadcast to civil aircraft on those routes. Should Croydon receive information direct from a civil aircraft they will immediately take steps to pass it to the appropriate district officer of the coastguard concerned. When there is reason to suppose that the location of the overdue aircraft is at a distance greater than 300 miles from the coast of the British Isles the message for broadcast will be passed to the G.P.O. wireless station at Portsmouth, but not to the coastguard.

When aircraft are overdue or in distress at sea, the senior officer concerned may enlist the aid of shore-based flying-boats or general reconnaissance aircraft, by signal provided the shore bases are within reasonable distances of the missing aircraft. The limits of such a search are to be left to the discretion of the officers commanding the shore bases. The list of these is: Bircham Newton, Felixstowe, Manston, Tangmere, Calshot, Mount Batten, Pembroke Dock, Abbotsinch, and Thornaby. Officers commanding these stations will also avail themselves of the services of R.A.F. 54th high-speed launches for rescue purposes where these boats are attached to their stations.

LOADED REVOLVER GOES OFF

It is now learned that Mr. James Smith, 24-year-old son of Mr. J. Smith, Chief Mechanical Engineer of the Kowloon Canton Railway, met his death as a result of a revolver shot in the stomach. Mr. Smith was an engineer on the s.s. Taiyuan, joining the B. & S. ship on Wednesday when she sailed for Shanghai. His death was reported on Saturday, the cause being given as a fall during rough weather.

It is now learned that an inquest was conducted on board ship by Mr. Martin, British Consul, when the Taiyuan put in at Amoy on Friday. As a result of the inquest a verdict of accidental death was found. The unfortunate man was

The Hospital is in the care of the Medical Superintendent, Dr. Bau Tsu Zung, (a Government Medical Officer) who has a number of young house-surgeons working under him and a staff of about 38 nurses and probationers. They all must pass a competitive examination which is held in the vernacular, and which is in conjunction with that of the Chinese Nurses in the Government Hospitals.

EAST AND WEST

The medicines of both East and West are employed at the Kwong Wah, and while at least fifty patients per day ask for Western medicine, an even larger number (sometimes as many as four hundred per day) prefer to be treated with Chinese remedies. In the latter, herbs are much used, and are given in the form of a brew.

Going through the wards the observer cannot fail to notice the cleanliness combined with the absolute simplicity of all arrangements. While there is nothing superfluous, there is everything essential, and to give more would be unnecessary. Modern iron beds are used, and the patients lie on clean and cool grass mats, with a sheet and either a Chinese or English pillow. The wards are light and airy with ample space between beds. But though the authorities will not allow congestion as to bedside they are frequently compelled to put two patients in a bed!

Their heads are (of course) at opposite ends, and being accustomed to the most terrible overcrowding in their own slums the patients do not appear to mind in the least. But how infinitely better it would be for the hospital to be able to supply a bed for each person!

A WORTHY CAUSE

There are in the Colony many philanthropists who are ever ready to support a worthy cause, and none more deserving than the Kwong Wah, could possibly be found. It supplies a vital need in the life of the poor, but it is obvious that it will soon be necessary to build some more wards.

Fortunately when that day comes there is plenty of ground on which to extend. The Hospital stands in a nice and spacious garden, with grass and green hedges, and many flowering oleander trees. A small tennis court is tucked away in a corner, and some of this ground can be spared when the inevitable moment for building arrives.

MATERNITY WARD

The Maternity Ward proved interesting, and one could not help noticing the contented faces of the mothers, safe in clean beds, with a tiny cot at the foot of each in which the newly-born baby reposed.

There were pathetic little creatures in the Children's ward. These horrid local boils are responsible for much illness, yet it was amazing to see how quiet and good the children seemed, and how ready with a smile and a feeble greeting.

Every week the hospital is visited by a Government doctor and lady doctor, in addition to the hospital staff, and the orderly appearance of the whole place is most striking.

GOOD-OLD DAYS

It was built in the good old days when comfort came first and space and money were no object, and there are many wide and healthy verandahs to keep the wards cool and enable windows to be open in all weathers.

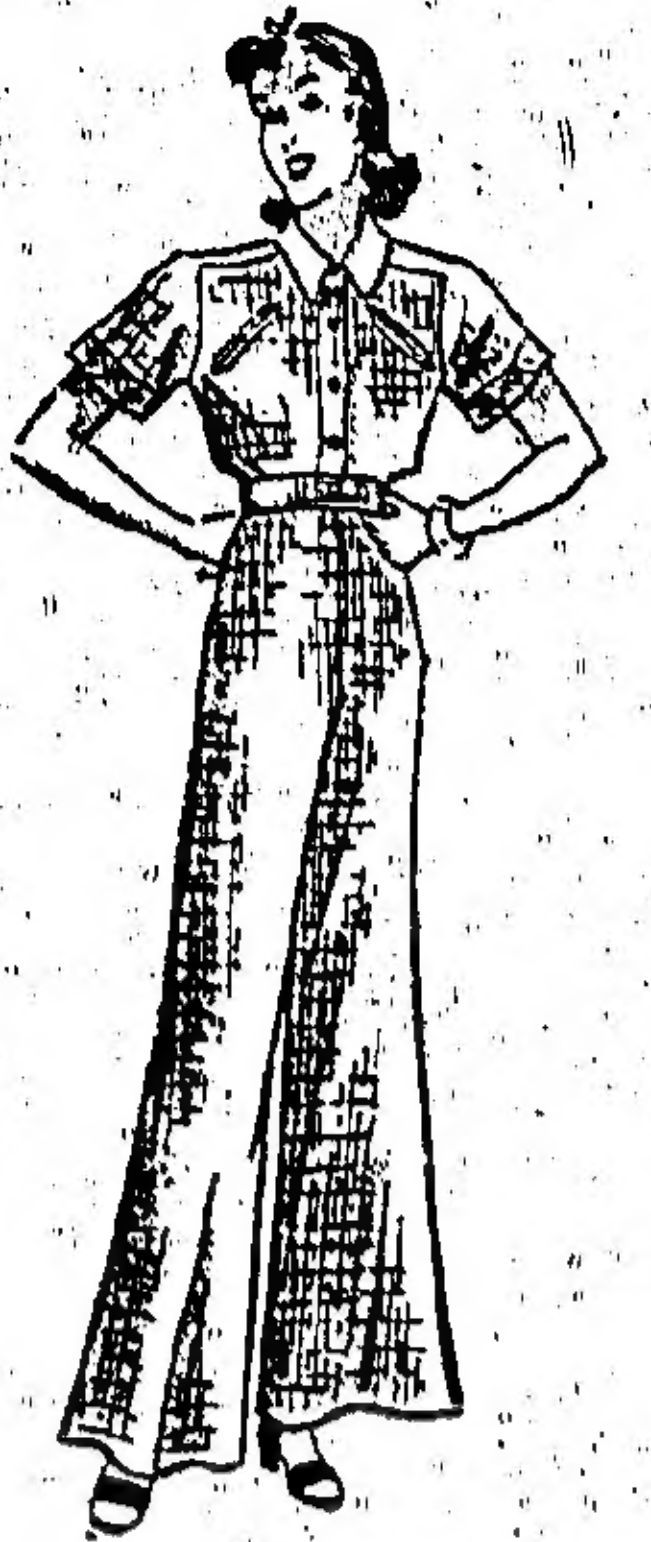

The entrance is very nice, and to the sick poor it must seem almost like one of their own dearly loved temples. A flight of shallow steps leads to the committee room which is flanked by beautiful old brass pillars, on which are Chinese inscriptions. The reception room itself is most dignified, with many panels of dull gold and some fine old furniture.

So, in spite of all the pathetic poverty and sickness one cannot but feel that the Kwong Wah is a happy place. The quiet and kindly nurses have much to do with the atmosphere of all hospitals, so it is pleasant to be able to record that the nurses' home on the top floor is plain but comfortable, while the well equipped operating theatres, dispensary, lecture room with models, and all the other adjuncts of a successful hospital are all there. Great economy must be needed to run such a place, but if the day comes when the Kwong Wah needs funds we feel sure a ready response to appeals will be made.

LONDON WEDDING

Hutton-Aglen

The marriage took place on July 30 at St. Ninian's, Aylth, Perthshire, of Mr. Herbert Bernard Hutton, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. C.H. Hutton, of White House, Great Witley, Worcester, and Miss Marion Aglen, elder daughter of the late Sir Francis and Lady Aglen, and stepdaughter of Lady Aglen, of Burnside, Aylth. The Rev. J. Ramsbotham (cousin of the bride) officiated.

The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. E. F. Aglen, wore a gown of peach-pink satin backed chiffon moire, with a long train cut in one with skirt. Her veil was of old Honiton lace and she carried a bouquet of pale pink roses. The train was carried by Jeremy Wilson and Ned Spragge, and there were two child bridesmaids, Helena Hussey (cousin of the bridegroom) and Valerie Guild, and two grown-up attendants, Miss Elizabeth Aglen (sister of the bride) and Miss Daphne Hutton (sister of the bridegroom). The bridesmaids had dresses of pale blue printed organdy, with headpieces of plaited pink tulle and shoes with a red rose, and they carried bouquets of red roses. Mr.

PUBLIC SPIRITED ACTION

The Sun Life Assurance Company of Canada made a very generous gesture when they decided to offer free anti-cholera inoculation to all their policy-holders, and they must have been amazed by the ready response to their offer.

The second floor of the Gloucester Building (where the office is situated) was crowded from 4 to 5 p.m. yesterday when policy holders (and their immediate relations) were offered this free treatment. A number of others also applied for inoculation, and the kind-hearted officials did not refuse them.

The Sun Life had secured the services of a well-known local doctor, and he had need of all the serum which had been purchased for the occasion.

A public-spirited action such as this is of great service in checking the spread of the disease. Further cholera cases have been reported in the last twenty-four hours, so the danger is not yet over.

Brice Fraser was best man. Lady Aglen held a reception at Burnside, and when the bride and bridegroom left for a motorcade.

TRAGIC PEEP-SHOW

Domestic conditions in Japan, notably amongst the workers in the heavy industries, give substance to the suspicion that the "incidents" in North China and Shanghai, have some of the peep-show features that characterised the 1931 and 1932 "incidents" which diverted Japanese public opinion from the then formidable internal troubles which threatened to shake the complicated social system to its very foundations. Manchuria, be it remembered, was subjugated towards the close of 1931 by the Japanese invaders because a railway was bombed. To this day there is no certainty as to who perpetrated that act of vandalism or what was the motive, but Japan had a monetary interest—comparatively small—in that railway and that was quite enough excuse for that brazen nation of fire-belching megalomaniacs. The facts of the Lukouchiao "incident" are almost as obscure, and the subsequent conduct of the Japanese almost as obscure.

Here let us record the comments of Chiang Kai-shek on this point. The Generalissimo said, "There may be people who imagine that the Lukouchiao incident was a sudden and unpremeditated step. But, already a month ago (early in June) there were symptoms that an incident would ensue because of the statements from the other side, made both through their Press, and directly and indirectly through diplomatic channels. Besides, before and after the incident we received news from various sources to the effect that the opposite side were aiming to expand the Tangku Agreement; enlarge the bogus 'East Hopei Government'; drive out the 29th Army; force out General Sung Cheh-yuan, and try to impose similar other demands." After which Chiang Kai-shek added these words: "From the above it can easily be seen that the Lukouchiao incident is not a sudden and accidental development."

Transposing emphasis for diplomatic language, Chiang Kai-shek charged the Japanese with being liars and tricksters, and as far as the militarists of Japan are concerned that is quite true. The most dangerous system of government is where the military authorities are not responsible to the civil authorities, as is the state of affairs in Japan, and the result is that the militarists have rushed in where responsible national leaders would have feared to tread. To-day these militarists of Japan are hastening to materialise their aggressive plans in North China with the heinous object of enslaving new millions of the Chinese people. The people of China stand for that estimable and modern form of government known as Republicanism, and the military class in Japan (as elsewhere) affects to confuse that form of administration with Communism, and of course that is anathema to the gold-braided masters of the Japanese masses. They are out to "chastise" China and purge that nation of everything and everyone even remotely approaching the Communistic ideal. In doing this over a period of years, the Japanese military terrorists have made confetti of the Washington Nine-Powers Treaty, and only the merest fraction of the much proclaimed "open door" principle remains. It is obvious that the Japanese militarists are determined to place before Britain and the United States of America an accomplished fact, namely: the conquest of North China.

Japan has decided to browbeat China at a time when the other Powers are very much preoccupied. Similar tactics proved successful in 1931 when Japan marched on Manchuria, for Europe was then very much engaged over German rearmament. To-day Europe's eyes are focused on Spain. Russia is perhaps not as free to concentrate on the Far East as could be desired, but Russia has been the only other nation besides China which has bluntly warned Japan that only the minimum of nonsense will be tolerated.

China is on friendly terms with Russia. An "incident" on the Soviet-Manchurian border would most assuredly provide unusual interest, but we confidently foretell that, as far as that part of the game is concerned, Japan will not play.

DISCUSTING CASE, SAYS MAGISTRATE

MAN SENT TO GAOL FOR A YEAR Girl Assaulted

Fong Pang, aged 24, butcher, was brought before Mr. W. Schofield yesterday at the Central Magistracy, charged with indecent assault on a girl, Li Sau-mui, aged 7, at No. 71 Second Street, ground floor.

Detective-Sergeant C. Mottram said that the girl's father was employed in a well-known local firm. On the night of July 24, he returned home after work about 2 a.m. On entering the room he saw his daughter lying on the couch.

On being questioned, the little girl was reluctant to answer but after persuasion she told her parents that the defendant had enticed her a few nights previously to visit his house at No. 71, Second Street and there the alleged act was committed. When the defendant was arrested he denied the charge.

Both the girl and the accused were examined at the Queen Mary Hospital and it was found that the girl had contracted a disease from the man.

On enquiries it was revealed that the girl and her sisters frequented the flat in order to study their lessons as there was a vacant room.

His Worship said that it was a very disgusting case. He found the defendant guilty and sentenced him to one year's hard labour with 10 strokes of the rattan.

OPIUM IN EGYPT

While the Opium Advisory Committee was holding its annual session at Geneva, 10 members of a gang of drug traffickers were brought up for trial before the Port Said Summary Court on a charge of trying to smuggle, through the Harbour channel, 65 lbs. of opium into the country.

Seven of the accused were sentenced to four years' hard labour and fined £E. 500 (£215), while the three others received three years' hard labour with a £E. 500 (£512) fine. Another member of the gang who is at present in hospital will be tried later.

"SEVEN SISTERS" FESTIVAL

Chinese Maidens Celebrate

The "Seven Sisters" Festival, which falls on the seventh day of the seventh moon of the lunar calendar, was again celebrated yesterday by Chinese maidens in traditional style.

Last night the fruit stalls at the different markets of the Colony and Chinese haberdashery and joss paper shops did a roaring business. Along Wellington Street, Hollywood Road, Lyndhurst Terrace and other streets on the mainland, there were crowds of Chinese women and girls making purchases, while their menfolk wandered about sightseeing.

During the night of the "Seven Sisters" Festival, feasts were held in the courtyards in many of the well-to-do Chinese homes late into the night. It is also interesting to see the fine displays of flowers, fruits, cosmetics, face-powders, coloured silk threads and all beautiful things of particular interests to Chinese maidens, besides the big characteristic handsomely decorated "Seven Sister" shields in the halls and verandahs of most of the wealthy Chinese families in the Colony.

It is believed by Chinese women and maidens that at mid-night of the "Seven Sisters" Festival, the "Seven Sisters" will shower blessings upon them, and that is why they assemble together and keep watch throughout the whole night.

ORIGIN OF FESTIVAL
According to Chinese legend it is recorded that long ago, the King of Heaven, who lived with his seven daughters, noticed a poor cowherd, who was a most industrious and filial youth, and as a reward, the King decided to give him one of his daughters in marriage.

The beautiful legend states that when the cowherd and the daughter of the King of Heaven were wedded the couple grew to be very lazy. The lad gradually neglected his work because of his infatuation for his wife, while his spouse neglected her weaving.

Their behaviour aroused the displeasure of the good old King, who finally decided that the couple must be separated, and they were allowed to see each other only once a year on the seventh day of the seventh moon.

Afterwards as the romantic story says, they were changed from their human form into two brilliant stars, and were separated from each other by the Silvery River or "Milky Way."

On the day of days, however, they had permission to cross the river and meet each other, and it is then that the maidens of China in offer up prayers and sacrifice in the hope that they will be given good and industrious husbands.—T.S.M.

ART EXHIBITION

It is now learned that the Art Exhibition to be held on the 2nd floor of the National Savings and Commercial Bank Building under the auspices of the Hong Kong Working Artists' Guild will take place on Monday next, August 16, daily from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. for six days. The exhibits will be mainly the work of M. D. Lorenzo, well known artist in Hong Kong and a few sculpture pieces by Osee Accordi. A large portion of Mr. Accordi's work has already been shipped to Macao with the result that the bulk of his work will not be exhibited here in a complete state. It is hoped, however, that an opportunity will arise in the future when his entire output is available for display here.

The Exhibition is preliminary to the one to be held in Macao in response to friends, civil and ecclesiastical authorities of Macao.

JAPAN REVIEW

Getting In First?

The ploy of the North China situation is that a Japanese Government pursuing a wise policy, could secure room, and plenty of it, for trade expansion in China, and could still lead in that expansion, by a clear declaration of recognition of the territorial integrity of China, and by peaceful negotiations on that basis.

In the long run, from the commercial point of view, what will Japan gain by the present forceful policy? North China, perhaps. But even if they gain full control of that region in the present campaign—which is not yet certain—they will face an ever-growing and ever more resentful army south of the province of Hopei, and the probable loss of trade in many other parts of China.

What is the profit if the economic control of North China is secured and trade with the rest of China is lost? Is it genuine trade expansion that is sought or just imperial aggrandisement?

These questions are not put in a highly critical state of mind but in an endeavour to find out just what it is that prevents Japan reaching an amicable agreement with China on the normal expansion of her trade.

Is Japan determined to get in first and be in a position to dictate the terms on which other nations can trade in North China? writes C. H. Stanley-Jones in the "Sunday Tribune."

Will It Be A Long Struggle?

Strange as it may seem, most political observers express the opinion that if anyone declares war, it is more likely to be China at this moment. "As a matter of fact," says a leading newspaper, "aggressive as Japan might seem at this time, it would be more difficult now to talk peace with Nanking than with Tokyo. In a sense, it could be said that Japan is on the defensive for the first time in the series of its military invasions of China. China, on the other hand, has assumed the offensive role," writes E. T. Huang in the "Malaya Tribune."

This change of attitude, according to the observers, is largely attributed to achievements of a greater measure of unity and to acquisitions of military strength during recent years. At the same time it must be borne in mind that China is fighting a life-and-death struggle in order to save the fate of a nation whose bitter cup of humiliation is being filled to the brim.

Her restraint has been markedly conspicuous throughout these exasperating periods: neither taunts nor insults have goaded her leaders to deviate from the national policy that "no sacrifice should be made unless sacrifice is utterly unavoidable." Now that her patience has been sorely tried she is prepared to throw in all her resources for a desperate struggle.

The Consequences

If the leaders of both China and Japan are not inclined to smoke the peace-pipe around conference tables, then outstanding differences between the two countries must be settled by some other means. At the time of writing, there seems to be no alternative except the throwing of the gauntlet. But let there be no mistake that such a war will end very soon. It may last even for an indefinite period of time.

At the beginning, Japan may register a few flashing victories along the Peiping-Tientsin area as the result of her superior war equipment and technical skill, but she will be given enough trouble in guerrilla fighting.

The extreme elements in China have long been advocating "that China should resolve herself into chaos after giving Japan a slip on the nose, abolish responsible government and offer the Japanese twenty different fronts on which their army could be drawn into the remote interior, and there be decimated by guerrilla warfare to Japan's financial ruin."

This, however, is not the present Government's object, but a protracted war will certainly have serious repercussions in Japanese politics. The flaming spirit of the New Life movement in China and the growing unity of the nation will oppose complete fulfilment of Japanese dreams.

It is well to remember at the same time the words of Sir Frederick Leith-Ross—"Tanks and military lorries do not make the best commercial travellers. Only by making China more prosperous could we hope to improve trade with her, and no country is likely to gain more from a more prosperous state of things in China than Japan."

BIGGER R.A.F. IN THE FAR EAST

Establishment Of Seven More Stations Expected

Big developments in the strength of British air defences in the Far East are understood to be foreshadowed by the promotion of Air Commodore A. W. Tedder, Air Officer Commanding in the Far East, to be Air Vice-Marshal.

The Far Eastern air command has thus been raised to the same status as the Near Eastern and other important overseas commands. This is interpreted in Singapore as indicating the intention of building up the Far Eastern forces with Singapore as the chief base.

Singapore has three R.A.F. stations completed or building, in addition to the headquarters of the command. The command area extends from Hong Kong to Ceylon, and includes stations and landing grounds in British North Borneo and Sarawak.

EMPIRE'S LARGEST COMMAND

With the separation of Burma from India, the R.A.F. units in Burma also come under the Singapore command.

Singapore newspapers forecast the establishment in the near future of seven more new stations. These are expected to be at:

Tengah, on Singapore Island (already being built); Penang, in northern Malaya; Kai Tak and Pay Hwang, in Hong Kong; the Nicobar Islands, in the Bay of Bengal; Mergui, Burma; Kota Bharu, in the State of Kelantan; on the east coast of Malaya; and Sarawak.

Already the Far Eastern command is the largest in the Empire, geographically speaking. Now it is recognised as potentially the most important overseas command outside India.

Its present strength consists of four squadrons stationed at Singapore and naval air arm units based on Hong Kong and Colombo. Two more bomber squadrons and one of flying boats are expected in the near future.

MR. LOUIS DAPPLES Head Of Nestle Dies At Geneva

The death occurred recently in Geneva of Mr. Louis Dapples, president of the Nestle and Anglo Swiss Milk Products, Ltd., organisation. The death occurred in the Evangelical hospital at Geneva from emphysema.

Mr. Louis Dapples had already achieved an international reputation in the banking world before becoming associated with the Nestle group of Companies, some 16 years ago.

Mr. Dapples's fate for finance amounted to genius and his decease is a great loss, not only to the Nestle Companies, but to the financial world.

NORTH CHINA SITUATION

Japanese Prepare For War

Nanking, August 11.

The Japanese militarists fearing that the coming northern drive of the Chinese armies is for the purpose of ousting them from North China and Manchuria, it is reported that the Japanese forces in North China are being heavily re-inforced in preparation for a second war with China.

At 6 p.m. on August 9, a strong force of Japanese troops began their advance into the Chinghai District, where they came in contact with the Chinese troops.

Fighting lasted up till 11 p.m., at night, when the Japanese troops were repulsed. The Japanese troops of the Peiping-Hankow sector are now in occupation of the Pung Tso Railway Station, 18 li from Chang-shin-tien in the west.

In the south they are in occupation of Po-tin and Liang-hsiang City, where they have planted machine-guns on its walls.

SHANGHAI TENSION RELAXES

It appears that both sides have decided not to aggravate the situation, and are inclined to settle the Hungjiao aerodrome incident by diplomatic means.

Fearing misunderstanding and disturbance due to the removal of Japanese goods, the Japanese consul has explained to the Chinese Authorities that the removal of such goods has been due to lack of business.

PURCHASE OF BRITISH AEROPLANES

London, August 11.

It is learnt that China has approached Britain's aircraft manufacturers with a view to purchase twenty aeroplanes. The British Government whose approval is necessary for the sale of military aircraft abroad has given permission but the difficulty arises over the question of delivery due to the requirements of Britain's aerial expansion programme. It is understood that Germany, France and Italy have aeroplanes available but they are obsolete and unserviceable to China. It is reported that Japanese inquiries encountered the same obstacle.

The "Daily Telegraph" from Los Angeles reports the Chinese Government has ordered 20,000,000 gallons of petrol costing $500,000 through the Pacific Petroleum Co.

NEXT MOVE WITH JAPAN

An important Northern daily, the "Liverpool Post," which is one of the closest followers of the Far Eastern crisis, commenting on the Chinese military leaders' agreement to support Chiang Kai Shek's minimum peace terms says in the circumstances the next move must lie with Japan and it is to be hoped the Chinese refusal to be intimidated will have a sobering effect on the Japanese leaders. It is generally believed that Japan does not want a major war and even if she is victorious it will be a most costly and most harmful business. Tokyo, perhaps, has not calculated that Chinese resistance might stiffen as it appears to have done now the Chinese militarists have shown a hand as the danger of war is so much nearer. Japan may feel expedient to take up a more conciliatory attitude and would seem to direct negotiations with Tokyo and Nanking as the basis. Chiang's minimum terms offer only a hope of preventing a conflict.

PITILESS VENDETTA BY CORSICANS IN PARIS

Considerable Alarm Caused

PRESS CRITICISE LAXITY OF POLICE

Paris, August 11.

A series of murders resulting from a pitiless vendetta carried out by many Corsicans in the French capital is causing considerable alarm and attracting the attention of the Press.

Early this morning an unknown man took a mortally wounded man in a car to hospital and then disappeared after giving a name which has since proved to be false. The wounded man, who has been identified as a Corsican, named Stefani, died shortly afterwards without recovering consciousness but the Police know that the murderer is another Corsican named Foata whose son was recently killed by Stefani.

A relative of Foata thereupon murdered a member of Stefani's family and Foata himself, taking with him a food supply for two days, kept watch for Stefani behind the grave of the latter's wife in the cemetery. When Stefani appeared on the scene to visit his wife's grave Foata fired but missed his aim and Stefani succeeded in escaping.

The paper "Intransigent" writes that it is now certain that Foata or one of his relations will be the next victim of the vendetta and asks how long the Paris police is going to tolerate this state of affairs which is a disgrace to the capital. Other papers also criticise the laxity of the police in this matter.

The "Matin" goes on to say that for this reason Stalin, without formally dismissing Dimitroff from his post, has made the OGPU chief, Yeshchov, the virtual Head of the Komintern. Yeshchov, according to the paper, has already taken far-reaching measures to "purge" the Komintern and dismissed about half of the members of the political bureau.

EAT MORE FRUIT

An increase of 5,000 acres of mixed fruit plantations in Perak is recorded for the year 1936. This increase is due to the inclusion of areas near the river in the Perak sub-district which have not hitherto been surveyed as fruit-growing areas. Fruit continues to be important to the small holder and the prices which he obtains are generally good, especially at the beginning and at the end of the season. Here's a Jonah among goalkeepers. Tom Foskett, who has joined Crawley Alexandra, has been with Grimsby Town, Lincoln City, Notts County and Tranmere Rovers. Three of them were relegated during his term, and Tranmere had their leanest spell in history. But if Foskett's ability counts for anything, that fate will not befall Crawley. He deserves some luck anyway.

FOUR YEARS' SLEEP

Smyrna's Sleeping Beauty Awakes

Known in Smyrna as the town's "Sleeping Beauty," a 25-year-old Turkish girl has just awoken from a four years' sleep.

Makboule by name, she was kept alive during her long sleep with orange juice.

Her mind is now a blank, and doctors are studying her case carefully, for it is unique in Turkey and has aroused the interest of the whole medical profession.

HOME CRICKET
RESULTS*Middlesex Beat Surrey

London, Aug. 10.

No more exciting and fascinating contest for the country cricket championships has been seen than the present one between Yorkshire and Middlesex, which became more and more intensified to-day when both teams won their matches.

Middlesex, after being put in a dangerous position, managed to beat Surrey by three wickets and thus maintained their decimal percentage lead over Yorkshire, who beat Warwick very easily.

Sussex won comfortably against Kent, although the Hop County did well to set their opponents 62 to win after being as many as 258 behind on the first innings.

Gloucestershire and Lancashire helped themselves to convincing wins, with Walter Hammond again to the fore, scoring a masterly 178.

New Zealanders on the eve of the final Test match did very well to beat Essex by four wickets. For this they were not a little indebted to W. A. Hadlee who hit up 106, and to Dunning and Cowie who took 6 for 71 and 5 for 66 respectively in the Essex innings.

BRILLIANT BOWLING

Most brilliant individual achievement was that of Goddard, the Gloucester and England bowler, who captured all the wickets in Worcestershire's second innings for 113 runs. In the entire match Goddard took 18 wickets for 181 runs.

Verity also had a highly successful match, taking in all 14 wickets for 52 against Warwickshire.

The results and leading performances with bat and ball as sent by Reuter, follow.

COUNTY CHAMPIONSHIP

Middlesex (151 and 230/7) beat Surrey (170 and 209) by three wickets.

Derbyshire (402/8 dec. and 11/1) beat Northants (253 and 159) by nine wickets.

Yorkshire (282 and 106/1) beat Warwickshire (295 and 180) by nine wickets.

Sussex (552 and 62/0) beat Kent (294 and 317) by nine wickets.

Gloucestershire (198 and 317/7) beat Worcestershire (310 and 202) by three wickets.

Lancashire (347 and 126/0) beat Notts (190 and 370) by ten wickets.

Glamorgan (243 and 199) beat Somerset (191 and 183/9) on first innings.

FRIENDLY

New Zealanders (363 and 123/6) beat Essex (256 and 239) by four wickets.

McDonald Was The Terror Of Batsmen

E. A. McDonald (who was killed in a car accident recently) was the terror of our best batsmen, writes a Home correspondent. Who does not remember the season 1921, when McDonald and Gregory came over with Armstrong's Australian side and by their fire and speed carried all before them?

McDonald will be held in gratitude by Lancastrians for his bowling feats for their county, but it was in that 1921 season, before he had divorced himself from the Australian game, that he achieved the successes which held the attention of the world of cricket.

Never before had our batsmen been so demoralised by great pace and many were the caustic criticisms of older players who watched the Australian pair from the pavilion.

This Australian side also included Bardsley, Collins, Macartney and Malley. They began the Tests at Nottingham by completing a ten wickets victory on the second afternoon.

Gregory, whose methods were more intimidatory than those of his colleague, began the rout by taking the wickets of D. J. Knight, Ernest Tyldesley and Hendren for 18 runs.

In that match Gregory took six for 58 and two for 45, McDonald three for 42 and five for 32.

Holmes, Knight (in the second innings) and Woolley alone made scores worthy of their reputation.

DRASTIC CHANGES

Drastic changes were made for the Test at Lord's.

C. B. Fry, though then 49 years of age, would have returned but for injury.

Defeat at Lord's was less overwhelming than at Nottingham, but McDonald's share in the match was 4 for 58 and 4 for 89.

The third Test match, at Leeds, was one of the most unfortunate in the experience of the English team.

Hobbs, who had been kept by an injured leg out of the first two, fielded during the first day and then was taken ill with appendicitis and operated on.

The Hon. Lionel (now Lord) Tennyson, who had taken over the captaincy from J. W. H. T.

POLO PONY TRAINER
FINED £5*Alleged Cruelty With Spurs

John, Traill, Roehampton-lane, Roehampton, trainer of ponies, was fined £5 and ordered to pay three guineas costs at Richmond for cruelty spurring a polo pony at Ham Common.

It was stated that when seen by an R.S.P.C.A. inspector, Traill said: "I spurred the horse on the right because she would not turn to the left when I wanted. She has to be taught and trained, and you cannot play about with these ponies. The rows were not fixed. It is a lot of damn nonsense that you cannot spur horses."

In the witness box, Traill said he had trained horses all over the world since he was six years of age, and was known as one of the best polo players in the world. In training polo ponies, as in training children, one had to be severe at times. He did not usually use the spurs.

WINS £20 PRIZE

Signorina Viola Giacchino, a brunette, has been selected by a committee as the most virtuous girl of Turin in 1937.

The committee, presided over by the Mayor, has awarded her a "Prize for Virtue" for her "exemplary conduct and attainments." The prize includes a cheque for £20.

Money to provide the annual prize was left by a wealthy citizen.

DR. KUNG IN GERMANY

More Trade Talks

Berlin, Aug. 10. Having completed financial agreements in New York, London and Paris, Dr. H. H. Kung, China's Finance Minister, held long conversations with Germany's Dr. Hjalmar Schacht, Minister of Economy, to-day. They are reported to have discussed ways and means of increasing the volume of goods exchanged between China and Germany.

Field Marshal von Blomberg, German Army chief, was present at a luncheon given by Dr. Schacht for Dr. Kung.

To-morrow Dr. Kung will have conversations with the German Foreign Office, with State Secretary Dr. von Machensien.

He will be entertained by Marshal von Blomberg Thursday and on Friday again by Dr. Schacht. Thereafter he leaves for Prague, Czechoslovakia, home of one of the greatest armaments industries in the world.

Later he will go to Rome, and sails for China from Genoa, on the steamer Scharnhorst.

CHINESE BUDGET SURVEYED

Berlin, Aug. 10.

The State Budget of the Chinese National Government for the fiscal year June 1936 to July 1937 is exhaustively reviewed by the Reich's leading finance and economic paper, the "Berliner Boersen Zeitung". The paper comes to the following conclusion:

Taking one thing and another, the new budget, both in the manner of its presentation and in its contents, shows a far better picture than its predecessor. When ultimately it will prove possible to include in the budget all revenue and expenditure, which has hitherto not been the case, then the confidence of foreign countries in the stability of the financial status of the country will rise considerably.

That will be all the more so if the Central Government in Nanking is in a position to simultaneously put the finances of the provinces and large cities on a sound basis and above all to establish a clear relationship between the Central and the Provincial financial administrations.

JAPAN'S IRON AND STEEL OUTPUT

Political demonstrations often have unforeseen economic consequences. Thus the tremendous advance in Japan's iron and steel production in recent years received its impetus from the events of 1932, when, faced with the danger of an economic boycott being declared by the League during the Manchurian dispute, the Japanese realized that they could be deprived of essential iron and steel and decided to eliminate the risk regardless of cost. Hence Japan is now rapidly approaching self-sufficiency in iron and steel, as regards military and domestic needs, and is even looking forward to the time when her steelworks will become active competitors in the world markets. That time is not likely to come for some years, for Japan's chief advantage as an industrial competitor is cheap labour, and in steel production the ratio of labour cost is relatively small. As showing the great increase in Japanese production it may be mentioned that the output of pig iron has risen between 1931 and 1936 from 1,044,000 to 2,129,000 metric tons, that of steel ingots and castings from 1,883,000 to 4,914,000 metric tons, and that of steel mill products from 1,810,000 to 4,270,000 metric tons.

LARGEST BUYER OF SCRAP

Because of her shortage of ore Japan is the world's largest buyer of scrap iron. Large recent purchases from the United States have been widely published, but Japan has always been a buyer of scrap, and her imports have shown comparatively little variation for the past three years. In the period since self-sufficiency began to be aimed at, however, the increase is marked—namely, from 299,000 tons in 1931 to 1,507,000 tons last year. In view of recent developments it is of interest to note that since 1935 China has been the principal outside supplier of iron ore to Japan. Plans for the next five years have been revised upward, and the new plan is expected to aim at a total yearly production of 9,500,000 metric tons, of which about 2,200,000 will be drawn from Manchukuo.

GERMANY WANT RETURN OF COLONIES

Berlin, Aug. 10. A new propaganda campaign for the return of the colonies Germany lost in the last world war has been staged at Hamburg. London, Aug. 10. Local authorities have been instructed to build health centres and holiday camps and to appoint instructors for physical training under the National Physical Training and Health Bill. Facilities for exercise for young men and women, including swimming pools and gymnasia, are recommended in a scheme which will cost many millions, but to which the Government will contribute one half the funds necessary. ## Sincere Company Crime Revelations

Opening the case for the Crown, Mr. Sheldon said that first defendant, Li, Fuk-chong, prior to his arrest was manager of the Sincere Perfumery which was a subsidiary of the Sincere Company. Previous to this post, he was manager of the Sincere Life Insurance Co. Ko Wah-tak once worked under Li in the capacity of a clerk.

Approximately six weeks before the murder of Mr. David Chan Sze, on May 13, Ko had a conversation with Li at the office, in the course of which Li asked him if he was employed and whether he knew the deceased. Ko replied in the negative. Before leaving Li asked Ko to call again at his office telling him that there was a big opportunity awaiting him.

A PROPOSITION

Later in the day Ko saw Li in his office and they conversed. Li recalled to Ko certain favours which he had done him while working as a clerk in the Life Insurance Co. Li then asked him whether he was willing to do something for him, and disclosed that Mr. David Chan Sze had a quarrel with him (Li) and that he (Chan Sze) and his son were filling the important positions in the Sincere Co. He then announced his intention that he wanted someone to do injury to Chan. Ko disagreed saying that he had no grudge against Chan. Li and Ko left the office together and went home, where Li again pressed Ko to comply with his wish, but Ko repeated that he had no grudge against Chan. Li suggested that Ko should meet him at a bus stopping place about 5.15 p.m. so as not to arouse any suspicion. Before leaving he gave Ko $5 and a pair of grey flannels.

A few days later Ko waited at the bus terminus. He saw Li and the assistant manager, Mr. Wal Te-lee. Ko travelled on the bus and when they reached Tai Hang they both alighted and Li invited Ko to his house for dinner. After the meal Li asked Ko if he had acquired anybody to do "the job" to which Ko replied that it was difficult to get anyone who was willing. It was then arranged that their rendezvous would be in Prince's Cafe.

PROMISED $300

On the following day, as previously arranged, Ko met Li in the cafe. Li promised to give Ko a sum of $300 if his request was carried out successfully.

Some days later Ko telephoned to Li and then met him at the bus stop. They went to Li's house again. Li was angry with Ko saying that nothing had yet been done for the money he spent. Li handed a sum of $170 in advance as part payment of $300. The balance was to be paid on the completion of "the job".

The matter lay in abeyance until one day in April, when they met at the Kowloon Confectionery. At this meeting Li related to Ko certain plans, namely that the deceased's should not be mentioned to the man who was to do "the job". Ko was to tell the person that a person had murdered his uncle and he wanted to take revenge. Li and Ko then left and met again at the China Emporium Ballroom on April 30. Li suggested to Ko that the best weapon to be used would be a knife. He then gave Ko $15 to purchase a knife which was to be shown to him (Li). Ko bought the knife in Canton and on his return gave it to Li for inspection.

MET IN DIVAN

On May 10 Ko met Leung Wong, alias Ko-lo, Wong and together they went to an opium divan at No. 1032, Canton Road, Kowloon. There Ko related the story to Wong regarding procuring someone to take revenge for the murder of his uncle. Wong promised that he would assist.

On the following day at 10 a.m. Wong introduced Au Hing to Ko. Au Hing promised to do "the job" for $25. At another meeting at the same divan they agreed that May 13 would be the date for the crime to be committed.

Ko then informed Li of the plan. About 8 p.m. on May 13, Ko went to the divan at Canton Road to fetch Wong and Au Hing. They went by bus to the Star Ferry and waited for Mr. Chan Sze to appear.

Ko saw Mr. Chan board a No. 6 route bus and they hired a taxi and together the three proceeded to a bus stop near the South Wall Street, Kowloon City.

During the journey Ko handed the knife to Au Hing. It had been the habit of Mr. Chan to alight from the bus near the junction of South Wall Street and Prince Edward Road and then walk home.

WAITED FOR CHAN

Meanwhile Ko, Wong and Au had already arrived in the vicinity, and were waiting for Mr. Chan. Ko, in preparation had paid off the taxi, but instructed the driver to wait for them at a certain street further away.

Mr. Chan eventually arrived and alighted from the bus. While walking across a piece of vacant ground Au approached him and stabbed him twice in the back. Mr. Chan staggered to the Chung Yuen Cafe. He was bleeding profusely. Police were summoned and Mr. Chan was conveyed to the Kowloon Hospital where he died at 4 a.m.

It was stated by Mr. Sheldon that a woman witnessed the crime, but she was unable to identify the person who did the stabbing.

After the crime, Ko, Wong and Au returned to the taxi driving towards the Jordan Road ferry. While nearing Bailey Shipyard, the knife was thrown away and was never found.

BLOOD STAINS

They went to an opium divan in Hong Kong. Au observed that there was blood on his jacket and Ko called to the servant for water saying that he wanted to wash his face. The bloodstain was removed from the jacket. Before leaving they arranged to meet again in Canton. Ko went to see Li to report on "the job" and Li was pleased. He suggested Ko should go to Canton and promised that he would look after Ko's family during his absence. It was also suggested that they should each go under an assumed name in their correspondence.

On May 14, the day after the crime, Li gave Ko the remaining $130, being the balance of $300. He in turn met Au Hing and Wong at Boston Cafe and there gave them $30 and $10, respectively.

In conclusion, Mr. Sheldon said that the taxi driver would be called to give evidence, but unfortunately he was unable to identify any of the three accused.

Evidence would also be produced to the effect that Li Fuk-chong owned the Sincere Company a sum of $5,700 for which a directors' meeting had been called to discuss his debts.

EVIDENCE CALLED

Mr. O. C. Womack, of the P.W.D., deposed to plans of the scene of the crime.

Dr. C. S. Luk, medical officer of the Kowloon Hospital, in evidence, said that he examined Mr. Chan when he was brought in and found that there were two stab wounds. In his opinion the knife was five or six inches in length and the breadth was about one-third of an inch. Mr. Chan died of haemorrhage and shock. There

PEAK TRAMWAY

As the result of a landslide just below the Barker Road station, the Peak Tramway service was brought to a standstill on Tuesday.

The last tram to make the journey yesterday was the 1.50 p.m., and the stoppage caused considerable inconvenience to Peak residents, many of whom had to make the trip by motor-car, as did numbers of business men yesterday.

The clearing of the track is now proceeding, and it is hoped that the work will be completed and the service resumed to-day.

LECTURE

Rev. Clifford Lewis, American Evangelist, delivered another interesting lecture in St. Andrew's Church Hall before a large audience yesterday evening. At the conclusion of the lecture the majority again gathered in order to enjoy a retreat.

were wounds near the chest wall and left lung.

KO IN STAND

Ko Wah-tak was then called to give evidence. He was warned of his conditional pardon. After having taken the oath he told the Court that he first joined the Sincere Co., when he was about 18 years of age. Li Fuk-chong was then manager of the Life Insurance Department. Witness commenced with a salary of $28 and Li had increased his wages to $80 a month. Witness resigned after working in the Shanghai branch office for two years and returned to Hong Kong where he became an insurance broker.

Witness related the story of how he came to meet Li one day in the office and had conversations with him concerning the facts which were detailed in the opening address of Mr. Sheldon.

Detective Inspector A. E. Carey gave formal evidence.

The hearing was adjourned to 2.30 p.m. to-day.

British Educational Report On German Tour

London, Aug. 11.

A delegation of British educational authorities, from England and Scotland, made a tour of Germany, on the invitation of the German Government, with the object of studying physical culture methods. The report of this delegation has now been published.

It deals comprehensively with physical culture in schools, universities and in various national organisations in Germany, and it describes the Hitler Youth as the best organised youth movement in the world. There could be no question but that the entire youth of the country was gathered into this organisation, and was being physically and morally educated by it.

Referring to the organisation "Strength through Joy" (Kraft durch Freude) the report says that this is more impressive to the foreigner than almost anything else in the new Reich, and it was easy to express whole-hearted admiration for the work it is doing. The basic idea of Strength through Joy was to give the worker opportunities to enjoy his leisure by the provision of things that he could not in the ordinary way afford for himself.
